PFS WELCOMES NEW PRINCIPALS AND EXPANDS SERVICES

MEDIA RELEASE

PFS Consulting (PFS) continues to expand its actuarial, risk and regulatory expertise and services to support new and existing clients.

PFS, which was established in 2001, is pleased to welcome Sean Williamson and Vicki Mullen as Principals. They will offer clients an expansion of our existing services and a depth and breadth of industry knowledge across markets, products and regulatory affairs. Managing Director, Adrian McGarva says: “the addition of Sean and Vicki to our team is a natural evolution of the unique range of services we offer. PFS can offer multi-skilled teams to support clients across the financial services sector.”

Sean Williamson - Superannuation and Life Insurance

Sean has over 25 years' experience in the financial services industry. He has deep industry knowledge of superannuation and life insurance. He has held senior executive and leadership roles covering strategic, risk, operational and technical challenges. He has a strong track record in transforming businesses and delivering significant growth. Sean can assist clients with expert advice and support as they seek market development and growth.
